PEOPLE HAVE WON A GREAT VICTORY SAYS LA FOLLETTE

Have Placed State Ahead in Progressive Leadership Says
Post-Primary Statement

RESULTS A TRIUMPH FOR PLAIN PEOPLE DECLARES THE SENATOR

Points to Issues Which He Claims Won for Progressives

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin people placed this state foremost in progressive leadership, according to a statement issued by Senator La Follette late Wednesday evening.

"The people of Wisconsin," said Senator La Follette, "have won the greatest primary victory in the history of this progressive state."

"Slightly more than one half of the precincts reported assure a safe majority of several thousand for the lowest man on the state ticket with more than one hundred and fifty thousand for governor and probably two hundred thousand majority for United States senator."

"The complete returns indicate a clean sweep for the nomination of progressive republican candidates for congress and for the state legislature."

"The great triumph for the plain people of Wisconsin was won upon a declaration of issues presented by the progressive republican candidates among which were:

"The repeal of the Esch-Cummins law; the enactment of a law taxing excess profits; immediate increase of federal inheritance tax rates upon real estates to be applied upon war debt; defeat of the proposed ship subsidy bill and all measures for like gratuities to special interests; unalterable opposition to any tariff rate in excess of the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad; Newberryism condemned and Newberry's exclusion from the senate demanded; maintain and strengthen the existing Wisconsin primary laws; publicity of all income tax returns, both state and federal; to prevent the cheating and tax dodging whereby great corporations have unlawfully withheld vast sums of money from the public treasury; just compensations for all executive and legislative services; condemnation of present excessive expenditures for military and naval purposes; unalterable opposition to universal military training and protesting support for constitutional amendment for a referendum vote to the people on every declaration of war except in case of actual or imminent danger of invasion; for amendment to constitution to meet the recent decision of the supreme court nullifying the child labor law; abolition of the use of the injunction in a dispute between employer and employee; and declaring strongly for the right of farmers and industrial workers to organize and bargain collectively; and conduct such co-operative enterprises as they require for their protection."

"These are some of the vital issues upon which the voters passed judgment in the primary of Tuesday."

"I mention them in the hope that this statement may reach the people in other states where primary campaigns are in progress and encourage them to fight on for the real democracy established by the fathers and to be maintained by a government elected by and for the people. The results of the primary election in Wisconsin is the more astounding because of the character of the opposition."

"Behind a group of people, some of whom had been for a time identified with the progressive movement in Wisconsin, was entrenched the old stand-pat stalwart-corporation-crowd, which apparently was so discredited that it was deemed necessary that it should operate under cover of an organization which took to itself the name of 'State Progressives.'"

"To strip the mask of subterfuge from the so-called state progressives and reveal the real character of the opposition was the more difficult because of the immense expenditure of money used to flood the state with a mass of misleading campaign literature by the opposition. Added to this, the great bulk of the press of the state, controlled by the special interests, failed to give the people the truth. The progressive cause had the support of two daily newspapers in the state, The Capital Times and the Wisconsin News. The progressive men and women of Wisconsin should remember the great service performed by these two newspapers for the common people. The reactionary papers bitterly attacked and misrepresented the real progressive candidates and the issues for which they stood, but they did not deceive, nor mislead the men and women of Wisconsin, the railroad employees, the industrial workers, or the legitimate business men."

"We expended a small amount of money largely contributed in small amounts by farmers and wage earners."

"Wisconsin is suffering less than most states from the general depression which has gripped the country. The result is not so much the protest of dissatisfaction and despair as the inspiring and determined declaration of a great state to bring government back to the people and make it serve the common interests."

"It places the people of Wisconsin foremost in progressive leadership, thought and action."

"This will be maintained by the people of this commonwealth in the November election."

"Poor Mule!"

"That," said the city man, "is what I call downright brutality. That man ought to be reported to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals."

"What's he doing?"

"What's he doing? Can't you see how fast that mule has to walk to keep out of his way when he's pushing the plow?"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"Doing Business"

Mr. Mulhoney—Want to marry my daughter? What nerve! Why do you think any jury would convict me if I'd knock your block off and kick you out to the street?

Counselor Everbrooke—The verdict would doubtless be "guilty with extenuating circumstances." The fee for my opinion will be $10. Come across—Life.

"In Mexico 20,000 victims were annually immolated prior to 1930."

WINONA GAS RATE IS REDUCED BY THE UTILITY COMPANY

Winona's gas rate for the next four months will be $1.71 per 1,000 cubic feet, according to the report filed with City Recorder George Hofmann by the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light & Power company. The rate is based on the holder cost of the gas for the months of April, May, June and July.

The new rate is a reduction of eight cents from the rate which has prevailed in Winona during the past four months. The rate is adjusted every four months according to the decision of Judge Wilbur P. Booth of the United States court given in the spring of 1921, based on the holder cost of the gas.

The reduction at the present time, it is explained, is due to the larger use of gas during the summer months for cooking, cutting down the overhead expense, which remains at about the same figure summer and winter. The new rate is one cent higher than that which prevailed in the first four months of the present calendar year. The following statement shows the fluctuating gas price which has prevailed in Winona since Judge Booth's decision:

Original rate fixed by decision—$1.95.

Next four months—$1.80.

Next four months—$1.70.

Last four months—$1.70.

For the coming four months—$1.71.

PLAN DEDICATION OF U.S. MONUMENT GIFT TO BRAZIL

Ceremonies to Take Place at Opening of Centennial Exposition at Rio de Janeiro

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A massive monument, known as "Friendship," and presented to Brazil by the United States committee for Brazilian memorial, will be dedicated shortly after the opening of the centennial exposition at Rio de Janeiro.

The statue, erected through donations by American business leaders interested in improving commercial relations between the United States and Brazil, measures 25 meters and 45 centimeters in height and resembles in design the Statue of Liberty.

John L. Merrill, chairman of the memorial committee, who inaugurated the movement to present Brazil with a lasting memorial as "an expression of friendship on the part of the United States," received the approval of Secretary of State Hughes for it before public contributions were asked.

The selected design for the memorial consists of a colossal figure in bronze, symbolic of friendship, holding in her right hand a sprig of laurel, and supporting with her left hand the flags of Brazil, and the United States intertwined with laurel and palm, indicative of prosperity and peace. The main figure is supported on an imposing pedestal of stone, enriched with bas-reliefs and at the base are four standing figures. There is inscribed a statement that the monument is the gift of the American people. Charles Keck of New York is the sculptor.

A site for the memorial was provided by the Brazilian government on the Avenida Presidente Wilson near the harbor. The committee which arranged details in this country was formed to act for the American Chamber of Commerce in Brazil in securing nation-wide support throughout the United States.

The Crisis

EXAMINATION of the law discloses the basis upon which the national administration has rested its injunction against the striking railroad shopmen. As stated in Monday's Tribune the Clayton act provides as follows:

And no such restraining order or injunction shall prohibit any person or persons, whether singly or in concert, from terminating any relation of employment, or from ceasing to perform any work of labor, or from ceasing to advise, or from persuading others by peaceful means to do, or from attending at any place where such person or persons may lawfully be, for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, or from peacefully persuading any person to work or to abstain from working, or from ceasing to patronize or to employ any party to such dispute, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful and lawful means to do, or from paying or charging to, or withholding from, any person engaged in such dispute, any strike benefits or other moneys or things of value, or from peacefully assembling in a lawful manner, and for lawful purposes, or from doing any act or thing which might lawfully be done in the absence of such dispute, by any party thereto, nor shall any of the acts specified in this paragraph be considered or held to be violations of any law of the United States.

Among the prohibitions set up by the injunction are the following:

- The "Boycott" injunction forbids all officers and members of the federated shop crafts, or their sympathizers from committing the following acts:
- Engaging in picketing.
- Issuing information or statements of any kind, verbal or otherwise, to induce or cause any railroad employee to quit his job or refrain from taking a job on the railroad.
- Using funds of the union to aid in the commission of any act restrained in the injunction.
- Interfering with or obstructing the railroads.
- Interfering with the operation of equipment of locomotives and cars.
- Conspiring to hinder railroads in carrying passengers, property or mails.
- Interfering with employees going to or coming from work by display of force, threats, intimidation, acts of violence, epithets, taunts or entreaties.

It will be seen by examination of these two that the injunction definitely prohibits acts on the part of the unions and "their sympathizers" which the Clayton act appears expressly to have legalized.

The sequel to this is the decision of the Duplex Printing case, in which by a majority the supreme court held that the Clayton act could not operate to permit the unions to do things which were forbidden by the clause of the interstate commerce act which forbids any interference with interstate commerce. The court held in that case that certain activities of the strikers were interrupting interstate commerce. It is the position of the federal government, in proceeding with its injunction, that the rail shop strike is interfering with interstate commerce, and therefore that it may be enjoined even as to specific acts legalized by the Clayton act.

Some readers may recall that when the Clayton act was up for passage labor fought for phraseology that would so cover this point as to exclude the things legalized by the Clayton act from the operations of the interstate commerce act. It may also be recalled that following the decision in the Duplex case Samuel Gompers made public conversations and commitments on the part of party leaders supporting the bill the purport of which was that the provision of the Clayton act would stand and would not be held to be in conflict with the interstate commerce act.

No doubt it was his familiarity with the Duplex decision which caused President Gompers of the American Federation to say on Saturday that labor could not "fight" the injunction "legally." He appears to recognize the legal authority of the government to proceed, and to be basing his case upon the theory that the injustice of this interpretation is so obvious that public opinion will not sustain the government.

It is noted with interest that the President's cabinet is considering widening the scope of the injunction in such a way as to affect "all persons who give aid in any form." It was said in Washington that this was to stop the utterances of union leaders not now on strike. Why the extension is regarded necessary to the government's plans doesn't appear, since the original injunction includes "sympathizers." The sum and substance of the injunction seems to be that neither individuals nor publications anywhere in the United States may say anything calculated to hearten the strikers for future resistance without becoming liable to contempt proceedings, which involves summary jail sentences.

Union labor no doubt shares with other citizens the conscience of that national necessity which requires the orderly procedure of interstate commerce. Labor knows that an emergency exists which cannot be met without the termination of the strike. The government had two courses open—to seize the roads and operate them pending a retroactive settlement, or injunction. It is common knowledge that union leaders would not have resented the former method, and it is probable that people generally would have supported it. However, the time is approaching when the country's suffering from the strike will bring about a popular state of mind in which people will cease to worry about methods, and will demand relief from their troubles by the restoration of normal railway traffic. Perhaps labor may come to consider a rather clean-cut difference between public utilities and private business in the matter of labor's responsibility for continued operation. Unless these utilities be segregated from the general run of employment, the present strike proceedings may easily be extended to the point of making all strikes subject to government interference. For instance, it would be a short and easy step for the courts to follow the present injunction against a railroad strike, issued because of interference with interstate commerce, with an injunction against a miners' strike on the ground that because coal the mining of which had been interrupted had already been ordered for delivery in another state, the strike was tying up interstate commerce. Imagination jumps easily from this possibility to a situation in which a local newspaper, with only one subscriber in another state, might enjoin a strike on the ground that the stoppage of that one paper interfered with interstate commerce.

It is probably sound to say that free speech doesn't give anyone license to advocate violation of law, but it would appear that an injunctive order broad enough to prevent any citizen who happened to sympathize with a striking group from saying anything that might be interpreted as encouragement to the strikers, might be met with the legal objection that it is an infringement of the right of free speech. It seems to us that the right of American citizens to freely and fairly discuss with any other citizen or citizens the greatest single domestic problem that concerns the country is more important, viewed from the standpoint of human progress, than any emergency which can grow out of a strike.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Lee Young, William Burke and Paul Jenks returned Monday evening from a week's vacation trip through Minnesota on their motorcycles. They visited Minneapolis, St. Paul, Rochester and several other places in the Gopher state.

Bob Brindley has returned to his home in La Crosse after making a tour through Europe during which he visited all the principal countries of Europe. Mr. Brindley, accompanied by a friend, left for Europe July 1. When the young man arrived at Liverpool they purchased bicycles and toured England and then sailed for the continent. Mr. Brindley will spend a few weeks at his home here and will then leave for Madison to resume his college course.

All records for attendance at the high school have been broken this year. The enrollment this year is 665, an increase of twenty-one over last year.

E. M. Wing, vice president of the Bravarian National bank, and R. C. Whipple, assistant cashier at the National bank, together with their wives, will leave tomorrow for Detroit, Michigan, to attend the annual convention of the National Bankers' association.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The German Methodists of Chippewa Coulee are contemplating the erection of a handsome new church and are conferring with local architects on the cost and other details of the venture. The church will be brick veneer and will cost about $2,500. The congregation at present holds services in a school hall but members demand more adequate quarters.

The weather is so cold that in the downtown stores and in many of the homes furnaces have been started. Overcoats are a common sight and the temperature is almost down to freezing. Warmer weather is expected in a few days, however, as the present cold spell is out of season.

About ten o'clock last night Officer Sam Johnson discovered fire in the basement of the City Laundry on Fourth street between Main and Pearl. He called the fire department at once and, being an old volunteer fireman himself, was the first to assist the firemen. It is not known how the fire started. The loss will be mostly from smoke and water but some machinery was damaged.

Miss Katherine Keefe of Oswego, N. Y., will arrive in the city Monday and will teach in the Keefe Business college. She is a sister of Miss Rose Keefe.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Eugene G. Perkhin, for the last twenty-five years a conductor on the Southern Minnesota, has received a promotion that will take him away from La Crosse. The position of depot superintendent in Milwaukee has been offered him and he has accepted it.

C. A. Krebaum has disposed of his plumbing business to Messrs. T. B. Vickore and C. J. Jacobson who will continue it under the firm name of Vickore and Jacobson.

The Most Exciting Journey

BY JESSIE DOUGLAS

"Oh, Lily, I'm going to Washington on my vacation? Yes, isn't it splendid? And I wondered if you would let Jamie have his dinner here at night."

Of course, Lily had consented. Jamie's sister was her best friend; she was glad to do anything she could. But Jamie, she had never liked him, nor he her. He wanted a dapper, a girl with bobbed hair and nonchalant manners who danced all the night and had a string of young men on her doorstep. And Lily herself was the other extreme. If anything, she was old-fashioned. She hated to admit it to herself, but she liked to cook, and a garden was her chief joy and delight. Her house was always clean and bright, and she had a low living room with a cozy fireplace and a few wicker chairs and a shirley peepers that Lily had raised herself. She did not like to look at one else either. "She had dusky hair that she did very simply in a great knot at the back of her head," she had said, and she did not rouge, and a slender white throat. She made her own dresses.

And she was ashamed of it all. She knew that she was a step behind the fashion, and when she tried to do the things that girls did she only got out of steps she never seemed to catch up.

As for Jamie Ludlow the less said of him the better. He had black hair that looked as though it were polished. He had the kind of eyes that looked at you and looked at you and looked at you without any change whatever. The worst of it was he had the most sincere manner in the world; a manner that made you feel that he was really interested in you and then made you wonder afterwards why you had told him so much about your life.

He had come over with Susie and, entering the dim, fragrant living room he had exclaimed, "Why, how like a French girl you are, completely dainty, and then looking at her he had said, 'And you're like a French girl!'"

Lily could never forget that evening. She was rather a quiet person but she had laughed and talked a great deal with a great many people and had never had such a good time and had said good-night to Jamie Ludlow in her high school French.

After that night Lily had never been so much as Lily had thought her stupid and old. The remark that Susie had repeated had been like a French girl, and she had said when she first saw you he thought you typically French.

Lily had said Susie's brother after that with a quiet, bitter scorn. "Something was said in that remark that she couldn't understand. But at any rate she would show Jamie Ludlow that what he thought didn't matter."

At first she decided to be cold and distant. Then she found he might think her odd. So she decided to be friendly and cool.

But when the men from the 519 had come to the street and Tom had pushed her into the car and said, "Oh, Lily, will you mind this? I want to go out tonight," and Frank had burst in to say, "Do you know where I put my place? I found that she had put me to be anything to Jamie Ludlow but just natural. There were too many things to do."

Her brothers, although they were both older than she, had to be looked out for. She had made a blueberry pudding for Jamie and she had been pleased about it. And Tom stopped in the middle of a conversation to say to her, "Glad kid, I found you'd dressed out all my ties for me."

Lily flushed up happily. "Things like that make her happy that she was just a little old-fashioned and that she did her duty and her happiness in mothering the boys and protecting her was quite helpless without her."

Tom was in the stall in the corner where the dim light was a little better and Frank carried out the dishes and Jamie Ludlow stood at the door watching her with something more than interest.

She knew he was looking her, was sorry for her that she was just a little household drudge for these big brothers. She wished he'd go.

When he did say good-night, it was just a general remark that he flung out on the evening air.

Then Tom went whistling off down the street and Frank buried himself in his journal of engineering and Lily felt a sudden sense of loneliness. She remembered what Susie had said to her before she left for Washington.

"You'll be an old maid before you know it, Lily. You ought to get out more and meet people. You'll never get anywhere sticking around home the way you do."

Perhaps Susie was right; tears glistened in Lily's eyes for a moment as she remembered the friendly glance Jamie Ludlow had cast her.

But she had very little time to think of herself or even to wonder what any one else thought of her in the days that followed.

Frank was getting ready to go on his annual fishing trip, and Tom talked of enjoining up through Canada. Lily had books to darn, the garden to weed, and her sisters to transplant and church household tasks to keep her busy far into the night.

She was used to Jamie Ludlow now; she had put a button on his coat for him and advised him when to take an umbrella. He treated her with the easy non-chalance with which one would act toward a valued housekeeper.

Then one evening she put on a pale pink organdie and porch. Tom was sitting there with his feet on the railing, puffing at his oldest pipe.

"I wish it were some other night," I wanted you to hunt up my old fishing tackle and help me pack it."

Lily hesitating just a moment on the step turned back to say, "Why I can't do it tomorrow."

Some one turned out of the dimness of the porch and a chair fell with a crash.

"Nothing of the kind, Lily. I have a date with me and she's not going to break it."

Before she quite knew how it had happened, Lily was hurrying along to keep up with Jamie Ludlow, and he was saying in an undertone, "I've had just about all of this self-sacrifice I'm going to have. How long have I been coming here to dinner?"

"Why, about two weeks," Lily said, and he told her seriously, "I've taken me fifteen to believe that it was true. I thought you were just a silly little thing when I first met you in spite of your Madonna face. But now I know your soul is as lovely as your face."

"But I don't understand," Lily whispered. "I'll try to make you," Jamie answered with a new husky note in his voice.

And Lily, listening to the strange vibrancy in his voice, knew that it was her turn to start out on that most exciting of journeys.

"FOOLS FIRST"—RIVOLI
The lobby of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, which has been internationally famous for its lobby, has been the site of many political convention headquarters. Including the last democratic convention, plays an important part in Marshall Neilan's "Fools First," which is coming to the Rivoli theatre on Thursday for an engagement of three days.

Richard Dix, Claire Windsor and other players in this picture, made the trip to San Francisco with Mr. Neilan, in order to give the public one of the most attractive lobby scenes ever staged and to insure an "honest-to-goodness" atmosphere for those scenes.

CASINO TODAY
In the latest of her starring pictures for Selznick, "The Sign of the Cross," Elaine Hammerstein comes a cosmopolitan success as a society girl married against a self-made business power, Miss Hammerstein plays the role of Shirley Marvin, daughter of a Wall Street millionaire. Shirley returns from her vacation to find her father suffering from a nervous breakdown, the result of a business battle he has been waging with Jim Powers, another great power in the Street.

But Shirley has discovered that Powers is a real man, and risking her own reputation she saves the lion. She has grown to know the man beneath the shell. He tells her that he is going to try again and asks her to share with him his new life. "Under Oath" is at the Casino theater tonight.

Many of the outdoor scenes were taken on a big three masted schooner which was a German wireless information ship during the war. A destroyer and a hydroplane, each part in the stirring action, much of which was photographed from the air. Miss Phillips' role is one of the most emotional she has ever played.

STRAND TODAY
Folks who know real country life will appreciate—and those who do not know it will be interested to learn—just what a country store looks like and how it "works." Almost like the "Old Curiosity Shop" in appearance and patronized by characters fully as quaint, it's without doubt a source of wonder to town and city folks. Perhaps the characters which gather around the big iron heater in the center of the store are the quirkiest of all the rustic personages. Such a country store is seen in "Partners of the Tide," a splendid picture at the Strand theater tonight.

Wash Tub Keeps Hands Beautiful
Would you believe that I envy my laundry, her soft, girlish hands? "Martha," I finally asked her, "how or why do you keep them so soft that way?" This is what she told me:—
"Once my hands were red, rough and dry, due to white and yellow laundry soaps. This skin cracked and burned for hours after washing. I sought relief in lotions but the next time I washed clothes, the redness and roughness would return."
"One night I read an article that told how a chemist had made a thing called 'Moss' in all the laundry soaps he examined—nearly thirty—except one. He said that 'Moss' had no cleaning power but was only used to fill up the bar because it was cheap and soap fats were more expensive."
"But, he said these 'Moss' on the clothes and rotted them, so I decided if they did this to materials, they must be what made my hands so red and rough."
"The one soap he said that had no 'Moss' in it was a bar of soap called GREEN ARROW that was greenish in color like castile, because it contained real olive oil."
"Well, I tried the next woman I washed for to get some from her store."
"The very first washing left my hands soft and not the least rough or red. But it took several washings before I realized I was using too much soap, because GREEN ARROW, being all soap, is all cleaning power and works much faster than the soap I had been accustomed to."
"I have never seen anything like this combination of olive oil and naphtha in GREEN ARROW soap the way it cuts the grease and fairly makes the dirt drop out of the clothes after a little soaking. It scarcely ever have to rub anything, except perhaps the seat of today's rompers or Mrs. Taylor's shirt bands and collar bands, and never any hard, destructive rubbing even so."

CALLAHAN TO RESIGN TO TAKE PRESIDENCY OF STOUT INSTITUTE

Position Will be Tendered to School Superintendent Says Madison Rumor

MADISON, Wis.—There is every indication that John Callahan will resign as state superintendent of schools and that he will be tendered the presidency of the Stout Manual Training School at Menomonie. The position has not as yet been offered him, but with the refusal of E. L. Callahan, of Milwaukee, to accept the position there are many indications on the state board of educational affairs that this position will now be tendered to Mr. Callahan. It is a vacancy at the Stout Manual Training School caused by the death of L. D. Harvey, who for many years was president of the institution.

Mr. Callahan was elected state superintendent of schools in 1921. He was elected state superintendent in 1921. The salary of the position is $8,000 a year, the highest of any state superintendent in the union.

Mr. Callahan's closest friends believe that he will accept the position if it is tendered to him. Information that Callahan is considering the position has been given to the board of educational affairs and will be made to the board of educational affairs.

MANDALAY ATTRACTS TOURISTS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

Attention Called to Geographical Errors in Kipling's Poem

Immortalizing City

MANDALAY, Burma. — With its thousand pagodas, its deserted palaces and its picturesque ruins, the city of Mandalay continues to be a place of chief attraction for the European or American visitor to Burma.

The palace grounds, surrounded by a wall and moat, are about a mile and a half square. The buildings have a cheap gaudiness about them which compares in many ways to that of an American street carnival. Still preserved are the throne rooms and the apartments of the king, the senior queen and numerous junior queens. Mindon Min, the next to last king of Burma, married 57 wives—seeking, evidently, to discover what the "57 varieties" are like.

From the palace grounds an American taxi takes the visitor to the foot of Mandalay hill, one of the holy places of Burma Buddhism. Here those who are adherents of the Buddhist religion are willing to remove their footwear, may obtain great merit by climbing the nearly 400 steps which lead to the summit.

The pavilions (rest houses) built at the foot of the hill are interesting chiefly on account of the pictures which appear along the walls. Most of these depict supposed incidents in the life of Gautama Buddha, and provide good instances of an inconsistency which is typical of Burmese art.

Arakan pagoda, on the other side of the city, presents a striking appearance by its being plastered over with gold leaf. The image housed here was stolen and carried away from Arakan by the Burmese in 1784. It was cast during the reign of a king who succeeded to the throne of Arakan in the year A. D. 146. The old Burman kings used to try to please Buddha by making war on their neighbors, carrying off as the fruits of victory, all the images they could find.

Mandalay has been dwindling in population since it ceased to be the capital of Burma. People say that every other man in town is a monk, and one out in the street early in the morning would almost believe that this is true. There are usually several yellow gowns and black begging-bowls for each block. Although there are already more than 1,000 pagodas in and about the city, new ones are now in process of construction.

Many Americans have been confused as the exact location of Mandalay by a couple of geographical errors which occur in Kipling's well-known poem. It could hardly be "where the dying fishes play," when the sea is over a hundred miles distant. And China isn't "just across the bay," but is just across the mountains instead. Just across the bay is India.

STRIKE CHIEFS CALLED TO MEET MONDAY

Union leaders, or declined to comment upon rumors of an impending settlement. Some insisted that the strike was broken and that peace parleys had ended with the break-up of the New York conference.

The call for the policy committee meeting issued at Chicago strike headquarters by Fred Scott, secretary of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, went out to the general chairman of the shop crafts organizations over the name of B. M. Jewell, head of the department, whose whereabouts had remained publicly unknown since the government's strike injunction was granted to Attorney General Daugherty by Federal Judge Wilkerson last Friday. With the issuance of the call for the policy committee meeting, Mr. Jewell was reported to be enroute to Chicago. The call informed the general chairman that the meeting was "very important."

Government Hearing Monday

The meeting of shop craft leaders was called for the same day on which Judge Wilkerson set for hearing the government's application to make the Daugherty injunction permanent.

Attorney General Daugherty announced at Washington that the government would consider in due time what proceedings would be taken against the few misguided labor leaders who have made inflammatory speeches in connection with the industrial situation. He said the government had been "somewhat hampered" by the difficulty process servers had experienced in locating leaders of the shop crafts organizations. Union leaders denied that Jewell and his associates had been avoiding the service of writs.

Meanwhile, labor leaders in the east joined in the demands for the # Impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty and Judge Wilkerson because of the injunction.

Federation Council Meets

At the same time Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and his executive council meeting at Atlantic City prepared for a court battle to vacate the injunction.

Although talk of a general strike of organized labor as a forcible protest against the injunction was persistent at Atlantic City, members of the executive council expressed opposition to such a course, declaring that "public sentiment was sufficient to win the battle."

T. De Witt Cuyler, president of the railway executives' association, with other rail heads said the roads were pleased with the way the striking employees were coming back to work.

No Conferences On—Noon

WASHINGTON.—There are no conferences now in progress between leaders of the railroad strikers and railroad presidents and none have been held since the formal gatherings in New York last month, it was asserted today by J. P. Noonan, chief of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which is one of the seven rail unions on national strike.

The meeting of the strikers' policy committee called for next week at Chicago is to consider the general strike policy and also to consider what shall be done in view of the injunction application of the attorney general, Mr. Noonan said.

B. M. Jewell, chairman of the executive council of the striking organizations, is now enroute to Chicago. Mr. Noonan added, after visiting several of the eastern railroad centers but during his trip through this section called no meeting of the union executives. Mr. Noonan said he was not informed as to whether the chairman had taken occasion to meet any rail presidents.

W. H. Johnston, president of the Machinists, another of the striking unions also returned to Washington yesterday after an unexplained absence and communicated with his associates at union headquarters.

No Vacancies for Strikers

JACKSON, Mich.—Twelve striking shop workers who sought reinstatement at the Michigan Central shops here Wednesday were unsuccessful because of the lack of vacancies in the shop force, according to the weekly report of the Jackson employers' association made public Thursday. Four other strikers were re-engaged, the report said.

qualify for a place on the ballot at the November election. However, if the precincts to be heard from report the same ratio of votes for Bentley, wet and Mathis, dry, candidates, as those already heard from, a party nomination is assured. In many counties an attention has been made to the count of democratic votes and it probably will require the assembling of votes at the secretary of state's office before the complete reckoning can be made. In the 748 precincts heard from, Bentley is given 5,910 and Mathis 5,590.

The two congressional races, those in the Ninth and Eleventh districts which were more or less in doubt all day, have cleared up somewhat. In the Eleventh, Hubert H. Peavey, around whom the wet forces of the state gathered and awarded their strength, was more than 5,000 ahead of Congressman Nelson, classed by the Anti-saloon league as "next to Volstead, the most important dry congressman."

In the Ninth district, George J. Schneider, who was also supported by the League Opposed to Prohibition, Wisconsin, division, assumed a lead of more than 500 early today over his opponents, Judge Henry Graas and Elmer S. Hall. The vote in these two districts stood, Ninth district, 234 out of 243 precincts, Schneider 16,580, Graas 10,002, Hall 11,667.

Claim Legislative Majority

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Although returns on the candidates for the state legislature continued to be fragmentary at noon Thursday, the La Follette forces were claiming that they would have a working majority in both houses. "We think that the La Follette contingent in both houses of the legislature will be large enough to control," said Edwin J. Gross, president of the progressive republican club of the state. "While we are without complete figures from every district, such as we have seem to reflect Senator La Follette's complete victory and we are basing our hopes for control on the remarkable run that he made. It is reasonable to suppose that when all figures have been tabulated it will show that La Follette candidates will have been nominated in the landslide of the progressive republican state ticket."

Senate Nominations

Candidates for the senate have been nominated as follows: Third Milwaukee district, T. J. Pruss; in Fifth district, Ben Getteman; Seventh district, John S. Kaney; Ninth district, Ben H. Mahon.

Twenty-first district, Racine county, Max Heck.

Nineteenth district, Waushara and Calumet counties, M. F. White defeated Senator Julius H. Dennhardt, the vote being White 7,075, Dennhardt 6,292.

Twenty-third district, comprising Waupaca and Portage, Senator H. J. Severson, author of the Severson act, was re-nominated.

Thirty-third district, Waukesha and Jefferson counties, J. C. Schuman, nominated.

For the Assembly

Nominees for the assembly are as follows:

Milwaukee county—First district, Thomas H. Connolly; Second district, Michael Laffey; Fifth, Peter M. Peterson; Sixth, F. J. Peterson; Eighth, Lewis S. Polowinski; Ninth, Lewis S. Weiner; Tenth, Edward J. Vandorboom; Twelfth, Lawrence J. Timmerman; Thirteenth, L. J. Pierson; Fourteenth, B. F. Vollmer; Fifteenth, Theodore Engel; Sixteenth, C. R. Perry; Seventeenth, J. A. Koch; Eighteenth, Frank L. Prescott; Nineteenth, George C. Hinkley; Twentieth, Charles Neisig.

Lincoln county, T. G. Metcalf; Lafayette county, James Goodman; Bayfield county, A. M. Warden; Chippewa county, C. H. Liche; Eau Claire county, C. N. Sanger; Ashland county, Fred C. Smith.

First Kenosha district, C. Shearer; Second Kenosha district, E. J. Vincent.

Dunn county, J. B. Miller; Jefferson county, E. H. Killian.

First Racine district, W. G. Nelson; Second Racine district, Jake Stoffel; Third Racine district, John Kamper; Walworth county, Frank E. Lawson.

Waupaca county, Mrs. Lila H. Mattison.

Additional figures received on legislative candidates indicate the nomination of Ole Kinney for senator in the Superior district against Senator Ray Nye. Kinney is a La Follette candidate.

Complete figures from Superior also show the nomination of L. H. Allen and Sixtus Ludahl, claimed by La Follette forces for the assembly.

Won't Quit Fight — Morgan

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—"This fight must be carried on until it is won. I shall not quit," declared Attorney General William J. Morgan, defeated by Governor J. J. Blaine for the republican nomination for governor in Tuesday's primary election, in a statement issued Thursday. Mr. Morgan did not say that he would or would not run as an independent candidate. His statement reads:

"What has happened will awaken the real spirit of America in Wisconsin. We have not begun to fight yet. The friends of sound government have no more important business than that of casting in the struggle on behalf of representative, constitutional government. This fight must be carried on until it is won. I shall not quit. We must now make the kind of fight that should have been made in the first place. Let no voter stay at home in November."

The original territory of Oregon was larger than the German Empire prior to the war.

HUSBANDS, TAKE HEED TO THIS!

"Then you believe that husbands are responsible for foolish wives?" asks Jack Sheridan, a much-married man of his gentlemanly bachelor friend, Morgan Carr.

"Not always," says Carr, and then smilingly adds, "but most always. They're one of the principal reasons. When a lover goes courting he supplies himself with ammunition in the form of flowers, candy theatre tickets and taxicabs. He fairly bombards the object of his desires with expensive sweets. But after he's caught her—ah, that's an entirely different story. He forgets all those nice little attentions and when he comes home at night all he brings with him is a grouch. No flowers, no candy, no whispered words of devotion. She has promised to stick to him until death do them part so what's the use of all that other fuss. You can't blame wives for seeking attention and recreation elsewhere. If hubby doesn't deliver—it's their privilege!"

The above conversation is taken from a scene in the new stage play, "Why Wives Go Wrong," which comes to the La Crosse theatre for six performances, on Friday. In fact the play has several rather daring thoughts involved in its story and the fact that it is being presented here by the original company and with the original production makes it of most unusual interest.

Keefer and Albert, a team of vaudeville experts who broke into musical comedy as features with the well-remembered "Whirl of Mirth" will lead the vaudeville bill opening Thursday at the Majestic for the rest of the week. They offer a new skit called "Eccentric Comedy." Both actors are capable singers, and the whole number moves with a fascinating dash.

Al Barber and company will present a European comedy act certain to interest. They have a lot of magic stuff, and close with a novel feature showing "just how it is done" that proves a great hit.

Another act is that of Lawler and Mack, with a singing talking and dancing arrangement for the entertainment of Majestic patrons; and the Andrews Duo puts across some clever laugh-making patter while lifting and leaping in an equilibristic comedy offering.

GYPSY FOOT RELIEF

A Wonderful Secret From the Desert

AFTER shaking hands with a Governor Cox of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley of Boston, Mrs. Bella Doyer and her fifteen-year old son started their long hike from Boston to Los Angeles, California, with nothing but jack-knives in their pockets and walking sticks for protection on their strenuous journey. Dressed in khaki uniforms, they reached New York City in good time, where Mrs. Doyer's burning feet, corns and the appearance of a real sore bunions threatened to halt her intended record-making expedition. But hearing of the wonders performed by Gypsy Foot Relief, Mrs. Doyer obtained a box and anxiously put it to the test, for here was an aggravated condition of foot troubles calling for immediate relief, and she must make good her slogan of "reach-Los Angeles-by-foot-or-die!" How Mrs. Doyer succeeded is best told in her own words in an interview, just before leaving New York to continue her 3,000 mile foot-trip. She said:

"When we reached New York City, in good appearance, I thought I would have to give up my 'reach-California-by-foot-or-die' program. Hearing about the wonders of Gypsy Foot Relief, I obtained a box and applied it that afternoon, and that night, and the next morning, and to my surprise, my feet felt as if they had new life; the burning and aches had ceased, the soreness had gone and the pains from corns and bunions had disappeared as if by magic. I started on my long hike again and now that I have some Gypsy Foot Relief, I am sure I will reach Los Angeles without any more foot troubles or mishaps."

NOTE: Gypsy Foot Relief, mentioned by Mrs. Doyer, is a secret from the desert. Applied in a minute, relief comes a few minutes later. The awful pains from burning, calloused feet, corns, and bunions seem to disappear as if by magic. No bother to apply—no powders—no soaking feet in medicated baths—no fuss! Simply apply it as directed, then put on your shoes and walk, run or dance as long as you wish, or work and stay on your feet as long as you like! So remarkable are the reports of Gypsy Foot Relief from different parts of the country, that the makers guarantee successful results in every case—or you get back the little it costs! ### You Cannot Appreciate Value

If you hold it too close to your eyes.

To see things of the material life is most important to your living. There is only one remedy for this kind of defective sight. Let me examine your eyes. Buying glasses is not the remedy. A blind man can appreciate value, that you do not see—my ocular service before it is too late.

THE MOST MARVELOUS INVENTION—"WIRELESS"

This instrument talks across space; saves human lives cast adrift on the ocean; employs but the simple principles of the human eye; the collaboration of two objects in perfect tune; the receiving wave lengths by their impression created on delicate membranous tissue. "Wireless" assists our hearing long distances. How much more do you need your eyesight to make a living? My ocular service saves the eyesight.

MAKE MORE MONEY

SAVE YOUR EYES--THE PRICE OF GLASSES

No one suspects that when one person runs into another, with their auto that it was due to peculiar rays in the light from the sun. We call such folks careless. Sunlight contains kindly rays and others that burn and harden the lens of the eye. There is a new glass from which I am making scientific lenses to give ocular service. We do know that defects of sight make folks unhappy; that they retard the energy and clearness of the mind. Since this is so, then every invention that aids eyesight, even a little improvement in the thread of a screw that keeps your eyeglasses in place is worth the effort. The advantages of my ocular service are hidden in the glass from which your lenses are made. You cannot see it with your eyes as you see the color or design of some wearing apparel. Even those engaged in selling glasses cannot determine what I have hidden in the lenses that I prescribe. You cannot see what the artist has hidden in the paint that he spreads upon the canvas. All artists use the same paint and canvas, but all do not obtain the same results. Can you see what the real artist possesses in his brush and paint? Does the artist talk about his paint, canvas and brushes? Does the surgeon talk about his surgical instruments? Does the great singer talk about his music?

My ocular service is worth more to you than all the glasses combined. Every known worth-while instrument is in my office to aid me in giving you the valuable means of preserving your most precious sense, your eyesight. Why spend your money trying to buy glasses? Twenty years of continued accurate service, and the return from year to year of these satisfied patrons is a guarantee that printers' ink or money will not buy. Spread the news.

Twenty Years of SERVICE in La Crosse

Money did not create it. Money cannot buy it. You should be able to see efficiently and I will show you that you can, providing your case is not beyond the ability of modern science and my ocular service.

You must conserve your powers of efficiency. Presbyopia or "old sight" generally makes itself known. My ocular service gives you back this efficiency of your eyesight. ### The Beak of a Hawk Represents the bird's main means of livelihood. It is kept sharp. You are possessed of both reason and thinking ability. Your chiefest earning power is your EYESIGHT. Does a hawk take more interest in his earning ability than you? My ocular service reveals many weaknesses of the eyes. Only the correct glasses are fitted when necessary. My ocular service makes it easy for you to see, no matter where or when.

Crippled Youth

One-fourth of the little tots of this beautiful country afflicted with inefficient vision.

If glasses are necessary you will get the correct glasses, after I have examined your child's eyes.

MONTAGUES TURN IN NEAT VICTORY OVER BLAIR AGGREGATION

By GEORGE McMANUS

BLAIR WALLOPED AT COPELAND PARK WEDNESDAY, 5-3

Notable Victory for Local Club; Dumont Retired from Mound in Seventh Inning

M'CAULEY SETTLES INTO FORM AND IS INVINCIBLE

Johnson Shows Great Form in Last Three Innings

FANS who witnessed the matinee exhibition Wednesday afternoon saw McCauley and his Montague team-mates turn in a neat victory over Blair and incidentally, pass out the first defeat to that aggregation at Copeland park this season. The score was 5 to 3.

The victory was a notable one for the Montague club. The meeting of Dumont and McCauley has been a long-awaited one on the part of local fans and it resulted in a big victory for the latter. Dumont's inability in the fifth inning to check the Montague onslaught of four clean hits and three runs, forced his retirement from the mound in favor of Johnson two innings later. During his session on the hill, Dumont allowed 9 hits. It was Johnson, of Eau Claire, that saved the visitors from a more severe drubbing. He went through the three sessions without passing out a hit or a score.

Mac Settles Into Form

While McCauley was unsteady at intervals in the first rounds, he settled into his usual form at the sixth inning and was invincible from then on. But two singles, both of which were flukes, were all the visitors were able to collect after that stage. He permitted nine hits, 3 of which came in the fifth inning and netted the visitors one score. Their two scores in the fourth came as a result of two hits and costly errors.

It was not until the third inning that the visitors were able to reach first base. Barlow singled, after Johnson had grounded out. Dumont followed by the same route. Here McCauley bore the brunt of the attack and dismissed all fear of a Blair score by whiffing Goss, lead-off man.

Dumont came back in the next inning for revenge and took Fitzke and Weigant down by strikeouts. Franzini mixed in a triple at this stage but remained on third when Safford struck out after having a chance to walk. The first two hits off Dumont went for triples by R. Angell and Franzini. The former's in the second inning, was turned into a run when Moore sent a powerful sacrifice drive to Glassbrenner. The shifty center fielder nabbed the pellet one-handed and Angell beat the relay to the plate.

Moore figured in his second sacrifice fly in the fourth when the locals turned in one run. The Angell brothers singled in succession. H. Angell scoring on Moore's fly. The run brought the score to a tie.

Score 3 in 5th
In the fifth, McCauley struck out Fitzke singled and Dumont muffed Weigant's punt for a hit. Franzini filled the bases by being hit by the pitcher. Safford singled scoring Fitzke and Smith's single brought Weigant and Franzini to the plate. Poor coaching from the third base line came within an ace of losing some scores when both Weigant and Franzini occupied third base at the same time. Franzini, however, shot back to second before any damage was done and before the visitors had recovered themselves to know what happened.

Dumont in retiring from the mound in the seventh inning, took his post in left field like a good sport. While admitting defeat personally, in so doing, he kept up his spirit which evidenced good sportsmanship.

Next Sunday the Montagues meet the Tomawandas of St. Paul at Copeland Park.

BRINGING UP FATHER

ADDITIONAL BLOCK OF 5000 SEATS BEING CONSTRUCTED AT "U" OF WISCONSIN GRID CAMP

By BOB DUNN

Workmen are busy on the University of Wisconsin stadium at Camp Randall erecting another block of 5,000 seats which they will have completed by the opening of the football season the first part of October.

The Camp Randall stadium will seat 27,000 in its new sections when the present block of seats is completed. The final goal is a seating capacity of 63,000.

Wisconsin's stadium is being erected under a plan which is different from any other plan being followed in the conference. Other schools are raising the money for their stadiums by means of drives among students and alumni. Wisconsin, however, adopted the plan of erecting a part of the stadium each year out of profits which have been earned from gate receipts.

Besides this new section, the hill on the west side is to be further terraced and graded this summer, and a decorative iron fence with brick posts will be placed on the Breeze Terrace side. Last summer three new entrances were built. Ten additional entrances are being built this year, one at each aisle to accommodate the crowds.

The new section of the stadium now contains 22 rows of seats but the final plan calls for 28 more rows to form a double deck structure with a large number of seats close to the field.

The stadium arrangement at Wisconsin is similar to that used by Ohio State whose structure is said by eastern critics to be superior to the famous Yale bowl.

A total of $100,000 earned from gate receipts has now been invested in the Badger stadium, according to T. E. Jones, athletic director. While expanding seating capacity, the possibility for more funds to erect the additional units is promising.

Reds cop batting bee from cards. Roush banished in first after threatening to attack ump; Score, 7 to 4. Four home runs socked as Phils trip Robins, 6-4.

Rain halts game with Giants; Braves tie, 1 to 1.

CINCINNATI.—Cincinnati went back into the first division on Wednesday, taking a free hitting game from St. Louis, 7 to 4. Sherrill was driven from the box in the fifth inning. The Cardinals hit Donohue freely, but could never overcome the Red lead. Roush was put out of the game at the end of the first inning when he threatened to attack Umpire Moran after being called out at third base. Score: Cincinnati, 7; St. Louis, 4.

PHILADELPHIA.—Four home runs featured Philadelphia's 6 to 4 victory over Brooklyn here on Wednesday in the final game of the series. Home runs accounted for all but one of the runs. Cy Williams smashed his twenty-third of the season, while Cadore, Walker and Olson made the other circuit walk-ups. Score: Philadelphia, 6; Brooklyn, 4.

GIANTS 1; BRAVES 1
BOSTON.—Rain halted both games scheduled for Wednesday between Boston and New York, after five innings of the opening game had been completed. The score was 1 to 1, each team making its tally in the opening inning on a pass and two singles.

The two games will be played at the close of the season in New York September 29. Score: New York, 100 00—1 Boston, 100 00—1.

KEN WILLIAMS GETS ANOTHER HOME RUN

Tallies No. 35 as Browns Wallop Indians, 11 to 3; Retain League Lead

TIGERS ROUT ROBERTSON TO TROUNCE ROSE, 8-5

Yanks Hit Quinn Hard to Beat Red Sox, 9 to 2

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—St. Louis made a clean sweep of the four game series with Cleveland by winning Wednesday's contest, 11 to 3. The locals retain the league lead by half a game.

Williams clouted his thirty-fifth home run of the season, taking the major league lead. His four bagger came in the sixth inning off Middleton, with no one on base. This puts Williams one ahead of Roger Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is at the top of the National league. Sister got two hits out of five trips, making thirty-six consecutive games in which he has hit safely. This put him four games behind the modern major league record set by Ty Cobb of Detroit in 1911.

Jacobson also hit a homer, scoring behind Williams in the third. Score: Cleveland, 3; St. Louis, 11.

Batteries: Fife, Middleton and O'Neill, Sewell; Davis and Severid.

Tigers, 8; Sox, 5
CHICAGO, Ill.—Detroit tightened its hold on third place with an 8 to 5 victory over Chicago on Wednesday. Robertson failed in the sixth and was relieved by Daypart, who was unable to check a batting rampage by the Tigers. Outslaw was ordered out of the game in the second inning for disputing a decision of Umpire Owens. Score: Detroit, 8; Chicago, 5.

Batteries: Quinn, Fulterson and Ruel; Shawkey and Schang.

PURDUE GETS SITE FOR A NEW STADIUM
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Purdue university at Lafayette has obtained a site for a new stadium and athletic field by a gift of six acres of land made by George A. Ames, and David H. Ross of Lafayette. The land is valued at $40,000 and adjoins the campus.

Yanks, 9; Red Sox, 2
NEW YORK.—After losing three straight to seventh and eighth place teams, the Yankees defeated Boston in the last game of the series on Wednesday, 9 to 2. The Yankees hit Quinn hard while Shawkey kept the Boston hits scattered. In the third inning Umpire Evans cleared both the New York and Boston benches, sending all players who were not active participants in the game to keep right field. Score: New York, 9; Boston, 2.

Batteries: Quinn, Fulterson and Ruel; Shawkey and Schang.

ASH PAVED STREET IS SPRINKLED ON THE HOTTEST DAY

Residents in the neighborhood of Fifth and Winnebago streets were most agreeably surprised Thursday morning when a crew of men from the board of public works attached a hose to the fire plug and wet down the streets.

"Ash-paved" streets get no sprinkling except what is done by residents armed with garden hose, and the relief is only temporary. Hence the great joy on the part of the third warders at the workmanlike job that was done Thursday morning.

WITH THE MAJOR LEAGUES

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Heavy hitting by Babe Ruth and Joe Dugan, behind Shawkey's steady pitching brought the Yankees out of their slump and gave them the last game of the series with Boston, 9 to 2. Dugan collected two singles, a double and a homer, while Ruth cracked out a brace of singles and a triple.

The St. Louis Browns, however, kept a half game ahead of the Yankees by beating Cleveland, 11 to 3. Dixie Davis pitched brilliantly. Ken Williams crashed out his thirty-fifth home run, giving him the major league lead while George Sizer brought his zapping streak to 36 consecutive games by hitting safely twice. He is now four games behind Cobb's record of forty.

Rain balked the Giants and Braves with the score, 1 and 1, in the fifth and as Pittsburgh was engaged in exhibition play only, New York retained its lead of 4½ games over the Pirates.

The St. Louis Cardinals dropped to the second division after losing to Cincinnati 7 to 4. Four home runs featured Philadelphia's victory over Brooklyn 6 to 4, while Detroit rallied in the sixth for five runs to beat the Chicago White Sox.

CAR TURNS TURTLE IN BAD AX RIVER OCCUPANTS SAVED

Party of Young People Have Narrow Escape Sunday Morning

A party of young people returning from a dance at Stoddard had a narrow escape from death Sunday morning at 3:30 when the big Chrysler touring car in which they were riding turned turtle on the Shumway bridge approach on the Bad Ax river and landed upside down in six feet of water.

Marvin Skrede, accompanied by his cousin from Lafayette county and the Misses May Velen and Lona Helgeson were returning from a dance in the early morning. On account of the heavy fog, Skrede missed the road just at the approach to the bridge, running the car into the river. The car turned over, pinning the occupants beneath it, but fortunately a door came open and all were able to crawl out. No serious injuries resulted, though Miss Helgeson suffered a sprained ankle and bruises.

The car was hauled out Sunday morning.

A Popular-Priced Cord Tire Without a Rival

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tire is built with genuine high-grade long-staple cotton as a foundation.

It is liberally oversize—the 4½-inch tire, for example, measuring nearly 5 inches.

The deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern of its tread affords excellent traction even in snow and mud, engaging the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

This new tire is a genuine Goodyear through and through—in design, in material, in construction.

It costs less to buy than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why be satisfied with less than this efficient tire can give—why take a chance on an unknown make?

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Steady recovery from Wednesday's pronounced weakness
look place at the opening of Thursday's stock market, reflecting favorable night developments in the industrial and railroad labor situations. There were a few declines, but with the exception of Maryland Oil, which dropped
a point, they were all of a fractional nature. Conspicuous strength was shown by Pullman, which climbed two points and Chicago Pneumatic Tool, which broke through to a new high for the year on a gain of 1/4 point. Gains of at least 1/2 point were recorded by Studebaker, General Electric, American
Locomotive and Utah Copper, while moderate improvement was noted in American Woolen, American
Telephone, Continental Can, United States Steel common, Mexican Petrochemical and Canadian Pacific.

The market broadened in later trading, equipping public utilities, motors and textiles taking a prominent part in the general advance. Renewed weakness of Mexican Oil, which had the forward movement in which new high records were made by a number of shares, including Columbia Gas
and Electric, American Gas, American
Woolen, and Norfolk and Western, all of which were up to nearly four points.
Other strong gains were Western Union and Desch Magnetics, each of which advanced three points and New York Air
Brake which was up two. Mexican Petroleum fell four points, but its early high while declines of one to two points took place in the Pan-American issues, Mexican Seaboard common
and Houston Oil.

The upward movement continued
right up to the close, but a sharp shorts in the final hour caused a good rebound in some of the stocks which had manifested weakness in early trading. Outstanding strong spots
Norfolk and Western, Retail Stores,

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Steady recovery from
Wednesday's pronounced weakness
look place at the opening of Thursday's stock market, reflecting favorable
night developments in the industrial and railroad labor situations. There were a few declines, but with the exception of Maryland Oil, which dropped
a point, they were all of a fractional nature. Conspicuous strength was shown by Pullman, which climbed two points and Chicago Pneumatic Tool,
which broke through to a new high for
the year on a gain of 1/4 point. Gains
of at least 1/2 point were recorded by Studebaker, General Electric, American
Locomotive and Utah Copper, while moderate improvement was noted in
American Woolen, American
Telephone, Continental Can, United States Steel common, Mexican Petrochemical and Canadian Pacific.

The market broadened in later trading, equipping public utilities, motors and textiles taking a prominent part in the general advance. Renewed weakness of Mexican Oil, which had
the forward movement in which new high records were made by a number of shares, including Columbia Gas
and Electric, American Gas, American
Woolen, and Norfolk and Western, all
of which were up to nearly four points.
Other strong gains were Western Union
and Desch Magnetics, each of which
advanced three points and New York Air
Brake which was up two. Mexican Petroleum fell four points, but its early high while declines of one to two points took place in the Pan-American issues, Mexican Seaboard common
and Houston Oil.

The upward movement continued
right up to the close, but a sharp
shorts in the final hour caused a good
rebound in some of the stocks which
had manifested weakness in early
trading. Outstanding strong spots
Norfolk and Western, Retail Stores,
American Metal and American Woolen which were up 3/4 to 1/2 point. The close was steady, sales 900,000 shares.

OVER SIX THOUSAND AUTOS IN COUNTY SHOWN IN REPORT

License Money is Distributed According to Number of Cars Licensed

Councils of the state will receive their apportionment of automobile license money to be used for highway maintenance during the coming week. Secretary of State Elmer S. Hall on Thursday certified the amount that each county will receive under the apportionment. A total of $4,055,845 was collected in auto license fees during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922. The administration of the law cost $178,706.62 leaving a total of $3,877,138.40. Of this sum 25 per cent is apportioned to the counties for highway maintenance in proportion to the number of automobiles licensed in each county. The sum which will be apportioned among the 71 counties of the state is $976,784.60.

The balance of the fund of 75 per cent, is apportioned to the highways to be expended under state direction. This sum will be $2,900,353.78.

La Crosse county will receive $17,853.41 as its 25 per cent share, under the automobile license apportionment. The records show that in La Crosse county there were a total of 5,978 automobiles licensed; 338 trucks; 106 motorcycles, and 28 dealers.

According to the records which have been compiled by Mr. Hall as a basis of this apportionment there were operating in the state on July 1st of this year 333,754 automobiles; 24,214 trucks; 2,057 motorcycles, and 4,813 dealers.

Of the aggregate amount of $4,055,845 received in automobile license fees during the fiscal year the total amount which was paid in auto license fees by La Crosse county was $72,612.50.

FORMULATION OF PARTY PLATFORMS IS TASK NOW CONFRONTING CANDIDATES

MADISON, Wis.—Formulation of party platforms upon which appeal will be made to voters in the Wisconsin general election, November 7, now confronts candidates nominated in the primaries, September 5. Republican, democratic, socialist, and prohibition party representatives meet here Tuesday, September 19, to determine upon the principles to which they will adhere in the general election.

The dominance of the republican party in Wisconsin gives particular significance to the meeting of its candidates. Division is looked for between the La Follette progressive faction and its opponents over issues that will arise during the convention.

Taxation and prohibition are set off as two important concerns of the republican gathering, while the democrats, seeking to regain power in the state, also are expected to wage a fight over the wet and dry issue, and to determine upon a platform calling for decentralization of governmental authority in the state, and for greater participation in international affairs by the federal government. The socialists and prohibition party candidates seldom develop any divisions during the course of their deliberations in selecting platform planks.

The La Follette progressive forces claim that they will be in control of the republican party platform convention as a result of the landslide in the state for Senator La Follette and his ticket at the primary.

Ask Change in Tax Laws. Senator La Follette, as head of his ticket, will lead the progressive delegation in the state. Governor Blaine, state officers recently nominated and members of the senate and assembly will make up the other party representatives at the republican convention.

The governor will urge change in the tax laws as a plank in the party platform—giving the tax commission funds and authority sufficient to enable them to go into the income tax returns of every corporation in the state, and removing the secrecy clause to the income tax law as a means of aiding the recovery of unreported taxes.

This issue, sharply brought out during the special session of the legislature in March of this year, will cause another fight, the progressives think. On national issues, the progressive republicans if in control of the convention will urge adoption of planks demanding repeal of the Esch-Cummins law, calling for defeat of the ship subsidy proposal, urging prohibition of injunctions in labor disputes, favoring reconstruction of the federal reserve banking system, and favoring the construction of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway.

Stand for Economy

The La Follette progressives will stand opposed to maintenance of a large military force, and will urge economy in all branches of the state and national government. Immediate passage of the soldiers bonus has been asked by the progressives in their early platforms.

On most of the planks offered by the progressives no division is expected. Proposal is looked for from the opposition faction calling for amendment of the state primary law to prevent nomination of candidates except by a majority of those voting. A fight would be precipitated by such a suggestion.

Prohibition again will be brought forward, the anti-saloon league says. An effort will be made at the platform convention to determine whether the forces opposed to strict enforcement of prohibition have gained control of either house, as a result of the primary. The belief that an attempt will be made to repeal the Sevenson prohibition enforcement act at the 1923 session of the legislature has caused apprehension to the dry forces because of the close majority held by them in the last session.

Harmony is looked for at the socialist and prohibition party platform conventions, when the candidates will accept the statement of principles set forth before the primary election. Except for a probable division on the wet and dry question the democratic convention is expected to be quiet.

FALL SUITS FOLLOW LONG TAILORED LINES

Fashion favors crisp lines to the bottom of a knee-length jacket and if asked point blank will say "suit costumes composed of a coat and frock are very smart". Fur lends richness to many, and one might add on the side that a fur-trimmed suit may be worn throughout the season. Our stock, while not yet complete, has a very fine assortment at a very reasonable price range.

THE GRACE OF SOFT DRAPERIES DISTINGUISHES SILK FROCKS

Though Crepe Frocks still hold first place among the afternoon costumes of fashionable women, they are not resting on their laurels of other seasons. Making up for the lack of variety in fabric there is much novelty in style and color. Chenise line Frocks in Canton and crepe backed satins are gracefully draped at the waist and cleverly girdled with self fabric twisted with a harmonizing shade of satin. Navy is a popular color, then the ever popular black in attractive styles still remains in favor. We have some extremely attractive garments at equally attractive prices.
